Read the text. Then choose the correct answer for each question below (27-30).

Fat provides nine calories per gram compared to four calories per gram for carbohydrates and protein. This concentrated energy is important for infants, small children and underweight individuals. Fat also carries vitamins A, D, E and K and aids in their absorption in the stomach.

Dietary fat is the body's only source of linoleic acid, an essential fatty acid the body needs to remain healthy. High fat intake has been linked to a possible increase in certain cancers (e.g. breast). High saturated fat and cholesterol intake may lead to an increased risk of coronary heart disease. The Canada Food Guide for Healthy Eating recommends (for adults) that no more than 33 per cent of total calories be obtained from fat.

27. According to the passage, ...

- A) dietary fat is essential for elderly people.
B) carbohydrates and proteins together give much more energy than fat.
C) vitamins A, D, E and K are essential for overweight individuals.
D) carbohydrates and proteins have about half the calories of fat.

28. It is inferred from the passage that ...

- A) high protein intake may lead to heart disease.
B) fat is much better for your heart than diets filled with fruits and vegetables.
C) low fat intake may reduce the risk of breast cancer.
D) low fat intake may introduce the risk of cancer.

29. The word "important" in the passage is opposite in meaning to ...

- A) obligatory B) dietary insignificant
C) essential D) insignificant

30. The main point of the passage is that ...

- A) fat should constitute less than one third of total calor
B) linoleic acid may reduce the risk of both cancer and h disease.
C) the amount of fat you consume is as important as the type.
D) saturated fat does not seem to affect cancer risk one vor the other.
